Monthly News

September:

1st September is a Science and Knowledge Day that is being celebrated through out the world. This occasion was celebrated in our gymnasium very nicely. Headmaster Stasys Ruiba gave greetings for all the students and the teachers. The senior students from the 4th form recited a poem about autumn and science. Our gymnasium was supplemented by the 6 first classes. 8th September brought a huge festival to our gymnasium, the Coronation Day of Vytautas Didysis. After 3 lessons the members of our school community gathered in the school yard and watched the balloons rise into the air. We hope every balloon has found its way.

October:

This month's one of the most important events is the Teachers' Day, officially celebrated on October 5. But due to the fact that October 5 was a Saturday, our school celebrated this particular day earlier, that is, on Friday. The festive mood was felt at school and all the teachers were impressed and cheerful. The students were also fortunate, because the lessons were shortened. When the lessons ended, some students organized a nice event for the teachers in the Assembly Hall. Teachers were very satisfied and they told that it was the funniest Teachers' Day ever!

November:

While students are steeped learning lessons, the drama teacher convened 4th form students and started preparing for the initiation ceremony of the youngest students of our gymnasium. On Tuesday all 1st formers assembled in the school hall, and the initiation ceremony started! The senior students worked their magic as magicians, wizards and witches. This afternoon was immensely adventurous and funny.

The last week in November was dedicated for a Lithuania's dialects. A lot of projects, the Olympiad and sessions were organized throughout the week.

December:

The main event that most of us are in anticipation is Christmas. Everyone's mood is perfect, kind and joyful. You can notice youthful people around.

INTERVIEW WITH PE TEACHER VYTAUTAS BARTNINKAS

1. Why did you become a PE teacher?

Because I've been interested in sports all my life. I have been at it since I was 6 years old.

2. If you were another person, would you be friends with yourself?

With myself? Well, why not?

3. If you were a pencil which color would you be?

A pencil? color? Hmm... I think, I would be a purple one.

4. Do you have a special talent?

I don't know. I haven't tried figuring it out. I haven't tried singing, acting or dancing. But maybe I've got a hidden talent.

5. What is the farthest you have been away from home?

The farthest place where I had been to is the Canary Islands.

6. What kind of movies do you like most: romantic, horror, comedies, action, or perhaps thrillers?

I fancy historical and science fiction films.

7. If you were an animal, what animal would you choose to be?

It's a tough question. Maybe one of the predators, probably a tiger. (He pointed out a tiger poster at the cupboard in the small teacher's room, that is near the gym).

8. Which season is your favorite?

Cha cha cha! Of course the summer! There is no work, no students. The weather is very good and warm. There is more free time.

9. What crazy thing have you done in your childhood?

Oh "jopapa"... One time my brother and me nailed down a lot of nails in the wooden block. It was for chopping firewood.

10. What job were you dreaming about as a child?

I wanted to be an astronaut or a diver.

11. How could you describe yourself in three words?

Oh, it is a tough one... First – strict, second – correct for the students and third – entertaining when needed.

Interviewers:

Ieva von de Pygmy Marmoset

De Spectacled Langur dit la Gabriele

INTERVIEW WITH GEOGRAPHY TEACHER

S. ALENSKIENE

1. What career were you dreaming about in your childhood?

- In my childhood I dreamt about a teacher's career.

2. What were you like as a child? Did you get into much trouble or were you a pattern child?

- I wasn't a calm child. I was full of energy, the hanky - pansy, but my mischief was not wicked. Teachers and other students laughed from my jokes.

3. Are you happy being a teacher? Would you like to change your vocation?

- I am glad to be a geography teacher. I would never change my occupation, probably because I wouldn't be able to do something else.

4. What kind of topics do you like teaching the most?

- My favourite topic is about Lithuania's nature... I like teaching students about our homeland. Personally, I just delve deeply into this topic, I am very interested in our countryside. By the way, my thesis for university graduation was also about Lithuania's nature.

5. What hobbies do you have?

- I like listening to music, my hobby is working in my own garden, planting and growing vegetables. I also adore travelling.

6. Do you give priority to healthy living, or do you like coca-cola and chips?

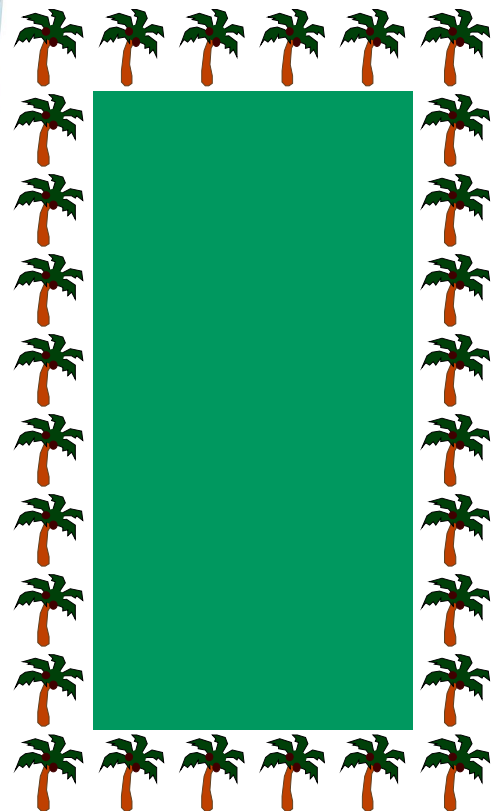

- I give priority to a healthy lifestyle. Chips and coca-cola never appear in my daily menu.

INTERVIEW WITH HISTORY TEACHER

V. PAMPARAS

1. Did you misbehave at school in your teenage years?

So many years have passed and it seems that I was as good as gold, but maybe I've done something bad...

2. Imagine that you've just won a million dollars. What would you do with this money?

I would invest in shares or bonds.

3. If you were to have a dinner party and could invite three historical figures, who would they be?

First of all, it would be Roman Emperor Augustus as he was a really smart person. Regarding the history of Lithuania, it would be Vytautas the Great and then Jonas Basanavičius.

4. How would you describe yourself in three words?

5. If you could try any job for a day, what would you choose?

It's difficult to pick a job just for one day... Maybe a driver, but actually I'm already working like a driver in my family. I would probably like to see if I could earn money while driving a taxi.

6. Everyone loves your laughter. Do you practise it in the evenings, so that you can make it sound so good?

(laughing) No, my laughter was born while correcting students' works. It couldn't be different, because my students always leave a lot of masterpieces of insight, so it's logical to be the laughing man. Of course, I'm not laughing when walking down the street alone. (laughing)

7. If you were a dictator and would have to inspire your country, what would you say?

I am already a dictator. Every lesson I say to you 'You must start learning or it will be a 2'. It's highly effective inspiration. But actually, I would never become a real dictator because it is contrary to my beliefs. I can only think about democracy.

*And now my suns and moons, you can run to other, less important lessons. - V.

INTERVIEW WITH LITHUANIAN TEACHER

L. VINCIENĖ

1. Do you remember your first love?

Yes, of course, because it was my first and last love. The most interesting fact is that I fell in love because of my dream. Everything started when a new boy from Palanga came to my school. It was in the 9th grade, I guess. He moved to the village, which was about 5 kilometres away from my village. Every morning we were driving to school on the same bus. He was very handsome and slim with curly hair. One night I had a strange dream about him. I dreamt that he kissed me; though, in reality we had never even talked before. Strange, but that was how I fell in love. After that dream I couldn't even look into his eyes. He was in love with all my friends and I was waiting for my turn. I waited. Then we got married. We lived together all our life. Now may he rest in peace.

2. Why did you become a teacher?

At school I loved literature and I had a great literature teacher, so I entered a new Speciality of Literature and Directing at Klaipeda University. I didn't know what job I would have after I finish my studies. Nevertheless, I became a teacher and now I am very happy.

3 What's your favourite author?

I would say Putinas. That is because his book "Altorių šešėly" describes contemporary problems, even though it was written in the 20th century.

4. Since you read a lot, are you planning to write something of your own?

I am always joking with my students about that. I used to say that if Žemaitė started writing at 49, I still have time to start my writing career. However, now I'm older than Žemaitė but I write something just when my friends ask me to do it.

5. What do you do on weekends?

I correct students' works (laughing). I take some rest, knit, and sometimes read.

6. What helps you to rest spiritually?

I sit on my bike and cycle. I live near the shopping mall "Studlendas," so I cycle to Melnragė. Sometimes, I take my Nordic walking sticks and go for a walk in the forest.

7. What would you like to wish for our school?

I wish that our school wouldn't lose the status and honour of being a gymnasium, because I think these things are important. I wish that the new teachers would love their job and that students would always wear their school jackets.

Interview with arts teacher

R. Anankaite

1. What job have you dreamt of in your childhood?

IN MY CHILDHOOD, I WASN'T DREAMING ABOUT ANY KIND OF JOBS. I JUST WANTED TO PLAY GAMES, I DIDN'T WANT TO WORK.

2. What do you do in your free time?

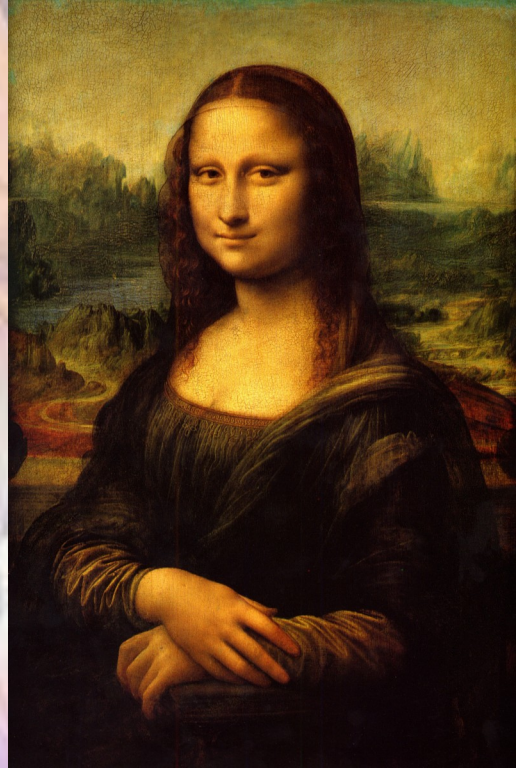

I SLEEP. WHEN I'M AWAKE, I'M ALWAYS ON DUTY.

3. Why do you think that sodas, energy drinks and kvass are drinks only for adults?

THAT'S BECAUSE THE LABELS SAY THAT THE DRINKS CONTAIN SOME PERCENTAGE OF ALCOHOL AND OTHER INGREDIENTS THAT ARE NOT MEANT FOR UNDER AGED PEOPLE TO DRINK.

4. Are there any da Vinci's, Michelangelo's in the classes you teach?

ALL OF MY STUDENTS ARE ARTISTS, EVERYONE OF THEM IS A DA VINCI OR A MICHELANGELO.

5. Are there any exclusive artists in our school?

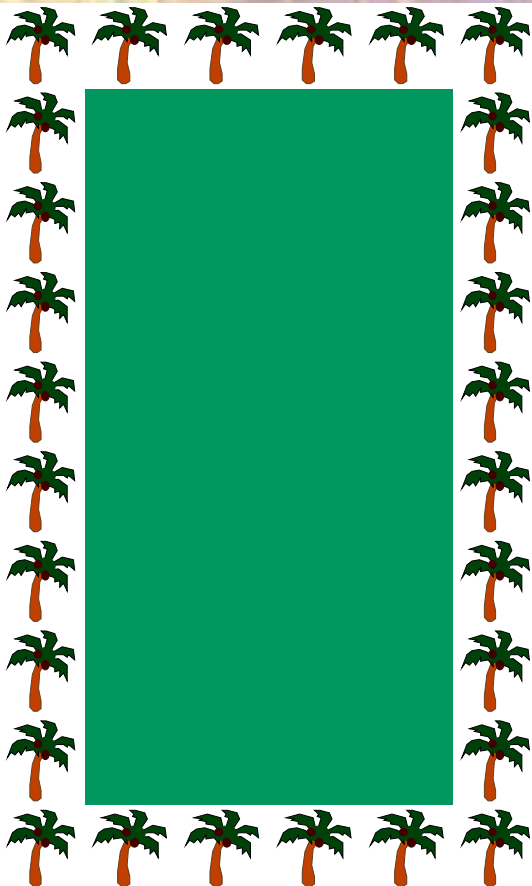

THERE ARE FEW IN EACH CLASS, BUT I WON'T SAY WHO THEY ARE, IT WOULD BE UNETHICAL.

6. Which teacher do you think would be the greatest artist besides you?

IN MY OPINION IT WOULD BE THE ADMINISTRATION. BECAUSE THEY'RE GOOD DESIGNERS, ARTISTS. OUR HEADMASTER COULD BE AN ARTIST.

7. Do your students cross boundaries at art?

ALWAYS, ESPECIALLY FIRST GRADERS.

INTERVIEW WITH MATHS TEACHER

D. KAKLAUSKIENE

1. What are your hobbies?

I have got plenty of hobbies, for example, cooking, gardening, also my peculiar hobby is Maths.

2. Are you interested in fashion?

Fashion... Well what I really do not like is when women buy magazine "Žmonės" and they read it, they see all the elite, many pictures, many clothes and thinks that it is a fashion magazine. Now I am not very interested in fashion. But once, I was in a very stressful situation when I wanted radical changes, so I went to my hairdresser and told her to either dye my hair blue or shave it bold. She told me "I am not going to dye it blue, I am going to cut it as I want to."

3. Could you tell us the funniest and the most remarkable event from your childhood?

Hmmm... It has to be funny and remarkable... Ohm, I remember one! I had a 9 years younger brother, who I had to look after. My purpose was to make him fall asleep so I could play all day. When he woke up, I started to sway him to make him somnolent, that he again nod off. When my mother saw it, I got caught in trouble, because the baby had to eat, but I didn't let him woke up.

4. Have you ever stolen something?

No, I haven't, but one day I wanted to do an escapade for my friend. Good thing that I didn't do that. Once I arrived with my little daughter to the shopping centre and near the entrance I saw the same baby stroller with a baby as my friend's. I wanted to do a dirty trick for her and take a stroller, but thank god I didn't do this, because after a few minutes a completely unknown woman came out of the shop and took the child. I would've committed a crime if I would've gone away with her stroller, which I thought was my friend's. After this event I was in a state of stress and since I understood that every person should joke with caution.

5. Do you believe in astrology, magic and destiny?

I believe that every person has his own destiny and life has its own laws. But I don't go deep in astrology and magic, I don't pay attention to it. If something happens, I always follow my brain. Also, if something very bad happens, I always say that there is nothing that bad that isn't possible to solve, to go through. And when it seems that God closed all the doors, I always look for an open window.

Now I must create a joke and my mind is blank like during the maths lesson.

INTERVIEW WITH D. KAKLAUSKIENE

PART II

Maths teacher D. Kaklauskienė often suggests to ask for grandma's help when solving a problem. Could it be that the teacher herself is that mysterious grandma?

6. Has anything mystical ever happened to you?

Well, yes, I have experienced magical things, but I always explained those things. Like when my mother was very sick, the doctors said it was over, but after that, she lived for three more years. Doctors had all their strength on saving my mother, but she was in a very bad condition, and when she lived through an operation than even most of middle aged men don't live through, we knew that it was something from above, that didn't let her pass.

7. When did you fall in love for the first time?

We used to fall in love always, but we used to keep it in a secret all the time... Half of our class girls were fallen in love with our Maths teacher. For us, he was similar to a God. We respected and loved him always.

8. So you became a maths teacher, is it because you really admired your maths teacher before?

Yes. And the other thing is that I prefer the exact studies. I am not good as a linguist. If not the exact maths and the subjects that are common, like economics, accountancy, engineering, only these things I can do. I couldn't have become anyone else. But the biggest deposit was made by my maths teacher. He used to raise at least 2-3 math teachers from each class. Like they say, we followed his footsteps like sheep.

9. Who did you want to be when you were a child?

If talk about my very early childhood, then I can't really remember who I wanted to be, but when I was in the sixth grade I fell in love with my new maths teacher I only wanted to become a maths teacher.

DARK SPOTS OF THE SCHOOL

You won't believe where a little mischevious cupid laid his fingers on. It's our schools windowsills. The school has been abuzz with rumors that now these places are full of love. So, don't you think it's a wicked spot for young lovebirds or a bee's knees place for strangers to fall in love?

You thought a ghost who lives in the schools toilet only appears in the books or films about Harry Potter? WRONG! The source says that a ghost of a little lady , named Eleanor, lives in our schools girls toilet too. Make sure you keep on good terms with her. She may lock you in for the whole lesson, because sometimes, a little lady can be very stubborn...

Here is the story that sparked the strongest reactions this month, from happy, sad, laugh out loud, angry and wow. It's hard to swallow, but who did ever thought of these ordinary looking desks in the cellar actually being magical? Up-to-the-minute rumors say that these mystical desks are secretly doing homework for the students.

Was your stomach talking once? And then suddenly, you are standing in the fortress of the canteen? "The Monkeys" have exclusive news. Could our schools canteen actually be a mystical place, where the treacherous nosh goddess lures our school students and teachers to canteen by creating a top notch taste and smell? She brews tea and coffee from last autumn's pine bark and birch leaves. Being as enterprising as she is, the nosh goddess concocts meals from game birds and animals and takes fruit from the garden of Eden.

Gossip Column

All characters in this publication are entirely fictitious and any resemblance to real persons, living or dead, is purely coincidental.

The following may contain dairy or nutty comments.

Our schools headmaster has been ordered to clean up the graffiti he sprayed on an French hotel. The headmaster hit headlines Down Under this week when he was caught on camera defacing a wall in the grounds of the hotel “Maison de Directeur” he was staying in.

“Maison de Directeur” Mayor John Oliver wasn't impressed with the headmaster's handiwork and had a graffiti removal kit delivered to our headmaster's hotel. He also sent a message via Facebook urging him to clean up the spray paint, writing, "Glad you had a great time on “Paris ‘Maison de Directeur”. Hope to see you back soon to clean up your mess."

Gossip Column

*It's official our PE teacher Renata is our casual style hero. How is it possible that the teacher looks so fabulous just walking through the gym?! She was spotted at school hall in an neon look, putting oversized sweatpants and a hoodie to shame. It's clear that we just *need* her casually chic look. Let's break it down, shall we? The teacher wore tight black trousers and a neon coat*

Hair-raising revelation! PE Bart made a confession about his own follicular situation this school year.

Our school PE Bart revealed that his hair is "gone now."

"This is an elaborate illusion," he said pointing to the top of his head. "This is the work of several talented professionals making the most of like four hairs. It's amazing, actually, what they can do. I'm not wearing a piece - or anything like that - but it's a long involved process that starts with stuff like shoe polish, basically, that they coat the top. They basically just paint - they get a roller type thing - and just whoosh along the top," PE Bart described, while demonstrating the painting process on his head. "And then they literally sprinkle powder in from a salt shaker. So this is, like I said, four or five hairs."

What happens if he gets caught in the rain?

"You're out of luck," PE Bart said with a laugh. "It flattens out and you can get the nice little rivulets going down. But thankfully, your eyebrows will channel down the side."

We heard shocking news this week. An unidentified source told that our geography teacher A' Lee Anskiene got lost in a big shopping centre in Klaipeda. Some students say that they have seen the teacher. She was behaving like she was in a big trouble.

But I can calm you down. The shopping centre security brought her home. Later she explained that her maps were 5 years old.

WEATHER IN SCHOOL

MONDAY

Class windows dew on Monday mornings. The gloomy mood prevails, as the students laze around sleepily in the corridors. Estimated arguments with teachers hail. Teachers' distracted after the weekend, forget to bring in students' papers and that's how students become a little bit happier.

TUESDAY

Tuesday starts with scattered showers of returning test results, pupils ski on thin ice that formed from hazy lessons. The Teachers temperatures rise because the students do not feel like learning something after Monday. On Tuesdays the weather is calm, there is no rain, no heavy storms or hurricanes, but the learners do not enjoy it because, as this day is the silence before the storm.

WEDNESDAY

Tension fog and storms expected on Wednesdays. The hallway is blowing strong winds (12 m/s) because the students stir around like crazy. Students are still sleepy. On Wednesday the teachers' hearts are as cold as ice, all the thoughts seem like a blizzard of the mind which revolves entirely around the lessons where tests are expected.

THURSDAY

On Thursdays Expect clearings, because thought about coming Friday brightens the day. The students are more relaxed, sunny spells become more frequent and enlighten children`s minds. As for teachers, they find it increasingly difficult to manage the students. Their lessons get more hectic, because Friday storm is approaching and the wind rises.

FRIDAY

On Friday students' sentiments rage on science fiction and run black rainy clouds. However, some pupils glow like the sun and the moon. Whistling in the ears, the weekend blows, so students cannot hear the teacher. As the Post-Hurricane Friday leaves teachers fatigued with their eyes latching mist to unprecedented students.

Why did the student took a ladder to school?

Because he was going to higher school!

So... How did you do the maths test?

Oh, it was an easy one. I did all the exercises.

And how did you do the sixth exercise? It was so tricky to me!

What sixth exercise?!

It was on the other side of the paper.

Oh no!!! I haven't seen that...

I'll be punished to wash all the dirty dishes for a month...

LEAVE THEM ALONE

TEACHER, LET'S CULTIVATE BACTERIA AND LEAVE IT ALONE

GO TEACHER, WE'RE GOING TO BE BUSY UP TO THE POINT OF NO RETURN

TEACHER

I want to skip the lesson, but the schools depute might see me.

(Oh!) There is my teacher! She will see me for sure.

Maybe this way? But no... There are my classmates, they will report everything!

I have an idea!

I will climb through that window!

STOP! What are you doing? You can't skip the lessons or you'll be in a lot of trouble.

Oh my God! What a nightmare! I'm glad that that dream has taught me to never skip my lessons.
